

FORTY-EIGHT HOURS MORE PROBABLY WILL SEE HUN OFFENSIVE AT STANDSTILL

General Foch, Allied Supreme Commander, Has the Situation Well in Hand, Today's Dispatches From the Battle Front Indicate; Reserves Coming Into Action.

AMERICANS PLAY BIG PART IN THE GAME

By Associated Press.

AMERICANS DRIVE MILE THROUGH.
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, May 29.—The Americans have penetrated the German positions to a depth of nearly a mile near Cantigny. Their artillery completely smothered the Germans. The roar of the American guns could be heard for many miles in the rear. Several fires are burning behind the German lines. Twelve French tanks supported the American infantry.

HEAVY LOSSES INFLICTED.

LONDON, May 29.—German troops who counter attacked last night against the Americans who captured Cantigny, west of Montdidier, were repulsed with heavy losses, reports Reuters's correspondent of the British army headquarters in France.

AMERICANS REPUSE TWO ATTACKS.

PARIS, May 29.—The French troops have fallen back to the eastern outskirts of Soissons where the battle continues with bitterness, the French war office announces this afternoon.

Frano-British troops, the statement adds, have fallen back to the heights south and southeast of St. Thierry where they are holding positions between the Vesle and the Aisne canal.

American troops to the west of Montdidier, the French statement says, have repulsed two German counter attacks against the village of Campigny.

In the center, continues the war office announcement, fighting is going on with varying success on the heights on the southern bank of the Vesle river where the French troops are bravely and admirably defending their positions.

PARIS, May 29.—General Foch now has the situation well hand and French troops are beginning to gain on the German advanced forces in a contest of speed. No important line of communication is yet threatened by the advance of the German own prince.

Those on the scene declare it is not too much to say that after 48 hours will see the German drive definitely stopped. High praise is given the French reserves for the perfect order which they are coming into the fighting line.

It was the first important action carried out alone by the Americans. All reports agree that they behaved like veterans. It is pronounced the best augury for the early future when American help will weigh heavily in the balance.

ENEMY MAKES SLIGHT PROGRESS.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, May 29.—The German offensive made only slight progress today. Seeing the heavy masses opposed to them the Allies gave way in the center. In some places the enemy crossed both the Aisne and the Meuse.

AMERICANS HAVE HUNS ON RUN.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, May 29.—The army of the American soldiers who took part in the successful attack against the German lines west of Montdidier today also depicted in the repulse of the German raids against the American lines Monday.

One participant in Monday's affair is said to have been in today in a shell hole in No Man's Land with two wounded men as his prisoners. He was unable to get back to the American lines Monday night so he stood guard over them until attack this morning liberated him and secured the prisoners. Lieutenant Irving W. Wood of Oakland, Cal., said he did not see an American fall during today's attack.

"It was more exciting than a football game," he added. "We have got the Huns on the run. All we need is more Americans and then we shall lick them."

U. S. TROOPS BEHAVE SPLENDIDLY.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, May 29.—The American line now runs 150 to 200 yards east of Cantigny as a result of the successful attack today. The newest German attack is within several hundred yards of where the Americans dug in. The Germans, it has been found, had many outposts and machine gun emplacements in Cantigny. America's first offensive blow was struck in a mist. The German tanks apparently did not have much to do as the American artillery had prepared the way. A bright sun came out and the Americans as they dug in their new positions.

The Americans fought as though they were veterans and showed no hesitation when the officers swung forward and led. "Come on, boys." Several officers, describing the attack, agreed that the outstanding feature in their minds was wonderful morale of the men and their absolute confidence in themselves. The Germans poured machine gun bullets all around the Americans as they were digging in, but no attention was paid to them as jokes were handed back and forth. The demeanor of the men wounded in action was found to be cheerful when the correspondent visited the field hospitals this afternoon. He saw stretched out on their cots a number of these Americans, for the most part only slightly wounded, acted like school boys returned from a great day of sports.

AMERICAN DOCTORS CAPTURED, SAYS BERLIN.
AMSTERDAM, May 29.—A Wolff bureau telegram filed in Berlin on Tuesday in giving an account of the fighting along the Chemin-des-Dames briefly mentions that among the prisoners taken there were a number of American doctors.

FINN WITH LARGE SUM ON PERSON IS SHOT AND ROBBED

Eitel Lassa, Coal Miner, Killed While Grappling With Negro Thug at Gates Works.

Using his pocket for a bank cost the life of Eitel Lassa, a Finlander of Gates works, at an early hour this morning. Two negroes murdered him and got away with his money, amounting to about $600.

Lassa, who was 28 years old, was attending a dance at Gates. About 12:30 o'clock, as he stepped from the house for a moment, he was set upon by the negroes, known as "Trapper" and "Will." They demanded that he throw up his hands. Being a stalwart fellow Lassa grappled instead and in the scuffle he was shot, the bullet entering the brain below the right eye. Death was instantaneous. So close was the muzzle of the weapon that the man's nose was badly burned.

Several persons are said to have witnessed the light and recognized the negroes, but none dared to brave the weapons of the negroes. The murderers hurried to Lambert and changed clothes and disappeared, supposedly in the direction of Brownsville.

The negroes had been about the works for two weeks and knew that Lassa, a coal miner, carried a large sum at all times. Jesse Jones, keeper of the house at which the dance was in progress, is under arrest as a material witness.

Both negroes were of the yellow type, one tall, the other less so.

FLAG ON CONNELL GRAVE

Is Placed There Today by Committee of Foreign Service Veterans.

The grave of Zachariah Connell, founder of Connellville, whose figure has been seen in Paradise recently, was included today in those marked with American flags.

On their rounds of the cemeteries a committee composed of T. R. Cunningham, H. L. Bishop and John M. Martin, foreign service veterans, thought of the Connell grave near the E. T. Norton homestead. It gave evidence of having had little attention, and they put it in presentable condition.

DAWSON CHILD SPEEDY

Kills Helmet and Pair of Wristlets in Two and a Half Days.

The claim is made that Quila Helene Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellisworth Evans of Dawson, is the speediest and neatest knitter of the younger set at that place, and that she does work as well as many of her elders. When the call was sent out for outfits for the last contingent of draftees she set to work and within two and a half days knitted a pair of wristlets and a helmet. The work was perfect, the chairman, Mrs. M. Hecklinger, is quoted as saying.

SHOW UNIONTOWN HOW WE RAISED GREAT FUND HERE

Five Hundred Enthusiasts Go By Automobile to the Countyseat.

RAISE $1,500 IN CASH

One of Greatest Demonstrations by an Out of Town Delegation in the History of the County Capital is Staged by Local Red Cross Workers.

Connellsville showed Uniontown how to do it just right, when a delegation of the county chapter, was made in automobiles, buses, cars and trains.

On arrival in Uniontown the delegation paraded over the streets, headed by the Connellsville Military band, which was at its best. The parade dismounted at the court house, and the many novelties used to keep up enthusiasm in Connellsville during the past week were put into operation.

Old Kaiser Bill again felt the noose around his neck, and Uniontown patriots were given the pleasure of contributing to hang him higher.

Flags were carried in the parade into which coins were generously tossed. All the money collected last night goes 100 per cent into the coffers of the county chapter.

The biggest feature of the parade was the most representing the "great old mother in all the world," which attracted much attention. Bore on Monday night, Mrs. J. J. Dougherty was the principal figure on the spot, a white float, being surrounded by singers attired in white.

Gaster's Military band was one of the big enthusiasm-raisers of the parade. Thirty strong it led the Connellsville boosters attracting unusual attention along the line of march with its repertoire of popular patriotic numbers rendered with a spirit that stirred even the most seditious and conservative Uniontowner to a realization that a real red-blooded aggregation was in town. Almost without intermission from start to finish of the demonstration the band kept up its program of selections, adding greatly to the enthusiasm of the occasion. Its services were given without charge as a patriotic contribution to the cause.

By way of contrast it may be noted that the Uniontown band was invited to participate in the Connellsville parade on Monday evening. The offer was made to pay their street car fare and provide them with supper, which was accepted but at the last moment they demanded a purse of $120.00 "on the side." Inasmuch as every other organization was turning out without expectation of remuneration, the committee in charge decided to make an exception in favor of the Uniontown band, and it remained at home.

Uniontown people were taken somewhat unawares, they say, by the descent of the Connellsville aggregation their coming not being sufficiently known beforehand to prepare a proper reception for them. The fact that Rev. Cloyd Goodnight, during his address here on Monday evening had invited all Connellsville to come to the County Capital last night seems not to have been made generally known, hence the apparent failure of Uniontown to prepare for the invitation. Judge Reppert, attracted by the noise on the streets, is said to have left his office last evening without knowing what was the occasion of the tumult. Bumping into some of the "Midway" features he ruthlessly put a stop to them until he learned the reason for their presence and the identity of those in charge. He then promptly got busy to help the Connellsville boosters arouse the town.

New of Indiana addressing the Indiana Republican state convention here today as permanent chairman, asserted that he is also the "most uncompromising" in his partnership of any man who has occupied the White House since the days of Andrew Jackson. Senator New continued:

"President Wilson is as partisan in everything he does or thinks as he is persistent. It is evident that the slogan of his party in the campaign before us is to be 'Stand by the President' and the attending arguments that it one is a patriotic and a true American he must elect the candidates of the President's party for seat in congress in order that he may have support in that body or that if one fails to support those candidates he votes to discredit the President and his administration and gives aid and comfort to our enemies in arms."

"Mr. Creel, with his bunch of Socialistic muckraking misfits, is employing this source of propaganda in every form at his unlimited command, the bulletins, the movies and the chautauques. The money of the tax paying public foots the bill."

Contingent is Largest That Has Yet Marched ed the Streets

THOUSANDS SEE THEM OFF

Hundred Twenty-two Leave District No. 2, 118 From No. 5.

TWO BANDS ACT AS ESCORT

Each Draftee is Provided With Lunch Put Up by the Canteen Committee of the Red Cross; Each Had Substantial Food for the Trip to the Camp.

The biggest contingent of draftees which has ever left Connellsville at one time was entrained at the Baltimore & Ohio station for Camp Lee this morning, 240 men leaving by orders of Local Boards for Districts Nos. 2 and 5. The special train left here at 8:30 o'clock, the draftees having reported at the armory early this morning.

At 7:45 o'clock the two contingents lined up at the armory, and headed by the Connellsville Military band, marched to the Baltimore & Ohio station. The Italian band was also in line and the West Side and South Connellsville fire departments completed the parade.

Although Connellsville has seen soldiers leaving here many times now, the sight never grows old, and the area about the Baltimore & Ohio station this morning was filled with thousands of persons. Hundreds came in from outside parts of the region and store clerks did not report until after the train had left.

Of the 134 men called by Local Board No. 2 only 122, every man that reported, was sent to Camp Lee. The quota of Board No. 2 called for 131 men. Of the 12 who did not report the whereabouts of four are not known and the cases of six are before the district board at Greensburg. Two are in other parts of the country and are ready to go.

The men called by the No. 2 board who failed to report at all are: Ben Pajson, New York; Venanzio Barbacane, Hagerstown, Md.; John Griffith, Asha, Texas; and Clayton Forsythe, Pittsburg.

James Paul DeVillies is in Flagstaff, Ariz., and wants his papers transferred to the local board at that place. Tony Rodio is in Philadelphia and wishes to be sent from there. Six others, whose cases are before the district board for deferred classification are Patrick Coyne, Donald W. Snyder, Eugene Lucius, Walter Baserman, Matthew Brodigan and James Jacks. All others called by the local board on May 15 reported and went to the training camp.

Local Board for No. 5 sent 118 men, 115 being from the No. 5 district and two men being sent from here on having their papers transferred from other stations. They were Luigi Perugini, registered in Uppahur county, West Virginia, and John B. Ferrari, whose home is in Leisenring but who registered at Westville, O.

Of the men called by the No. 5 draft board of May 13, the following did not go this morning: Sebastiano Persechietti, Dunbar; Jasper McDorland, West Leisenring; Joseph E. Twardzsky, Trotter; Frank C. Oberbarter, Stewart; Joseph Scardale, Waynesburg; Andrea C. Zin, Deer Lodge, Mont.; Kriska V. Loria, Vanderhill; Philip Dolan, Dunbar; Paul L. Stull, Mill Run; Ralph Tosovich, Trotter. Tosovich will go on Saturday with the contingent to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.

The special train, which was due to leave here at 8:15 o'clock, was 15 minutes late in leaving, pulling out at 8:30. With the two bands playing and cheers rising from the throats of the draftees and their friends, the big train left the station.

It was necessary to quarter many of the District No. 5 draftees in the city last night. The men reported at the armory yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and those who were not able to reach their homes had to remain in the city over night. Rooms for the men were engaged at a local hotel.

Local Board No. 5, which was ordered to send only 108 men in this call, shipped 118 to camp. More than 108 had been ordered to report to the armory, however, and when it came to cutting down the quota this morning, every man present refused to be left behind. The draft board had intended holding some of the men until Saturday and sending them to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., but could prevail on none of them to wait until the end of the week.

Each draftee was given a box lunch by the canteen committee of the Red Cross, these having been prepared and packed in the domestic science department of the high school last night by the canteen committee, assisted by Misses Gans and Moland, instructors in this department. Each box contained one ham and one cheese sandwich, two hard boiled eggs, an apple, an orange, three cigars, a box of cigarettes, chocolate bar, postal cards, and pencil.

At the Theatres

THE PARAMOUNT.

"A MOTHER'S SECRET"—A five part biographical attraction in which Ella Hall is featured, playing the role of an 18 year old girl, who is forced to appear as a 35 year old by her mother, is being shown today. The story is exceptional in its interest, for one of the quiet, natural type. Perhaps in her entire screen career Ella Hall has never had quite so good an opportunity to bring out her special characteristics as in this entertaining subject. It gives her the opportunity she has always wanted, that of playing both a little girl and grown up woman in the same photoplay. There is probably no one in the moving picture field who combines the two ages in one personality so strikingly. In the course of the narrative Angela, the 35 year old girl, appears suddenly before her mother who has not seen her for years. The mother at the time is making desperate efforts to retain her youth and land her second husband a young millionaire. Angela, by the result of an accident, is dressed as a 13 year old child when her mother sees her. But in the end the truth comes out and she marries the millionaire. The story is so natural and convincing that it is deserving of high praise. A selected comedy is included. Tomorrow, "Masks and Faces," a five part World attraction will be shown Friday and Saturday. Mae March will be starred in "Fields of Honor."

ARCADE THEATRE.

Kilgore's Beans and Belles at the Arcade are lived up to their advance billing. The show is different from the usual tabloid and at a glance one can see the difference. The whole show went off with a bang from start to finish. Today this company presents a new bill entitled "A Night Out," a real musical comedy. The chorus is a fine bunch of girls that know how to sing and dance, and the wardrobe is far above the average. The two men that hold down the comedy and musical one of that famous production, "Miss Bob White," as they are the same size and work in a smooth way that pleases every one. The scenery is the best that has been seen with a show of this kind in Connelville for a long time. Little Miss Kilgore caused a riot last night with her sweet little way of singing, and was awarded a number of dries. The company has a new bill today and tomorrow. On the screen will be that famous picture "The Woman in the Web," a picture written on the present war. A great many of the scenes were taken on the battle fields of today.

ORPHEUM THEATRE.

"KIDS OF THE RIGHTeous" features Lind Bennett, under the direction of Thomas H. Ince. The story has to do with the devotion of a young girl for her father, who, weakened by dissipation, has deserted his wife, returning just as the latter is about to die. The mother entrusts the keeping of the father to the young daughter, the part played by Miss Bennett—and just how well the girl carries out her mother's wishes is very interestingly told in the photoplay. Miss Bennett has opportunities to prove her abilities as a comedienne, while clearly depicted. In her first Paramount production Miss Bennett has the support of Earl Rodney as leading man, Josef Swickard, George Nichols, Carl Foran, Lydia Knott and other well known Ince players. Tomorrow, William S. Hart appears in the thrilling drama, "The Patriot," Friday and Saturday, Charles Ray appears in the Paramount feature, "Son of His Father."

MORNING LECTURES

Will Strong feature of Chautauqua June 20-26.

Because of their presence and importance during Chautauqua week, special interest is attached to the announcement of the superintendent, morning hour lecturer and children's worker for the present season. H. C. Hoff, Jr., is the paid manager. W. H. Spence will give the morning lecture series and Miss Laura May Horton is to direct the work of the Junior Chautauqua. The Connelville Chautauqua will be held June 20-26.

Mr. Heffner, who comes here as superintendent, for more than six years has enjoyed a wide acquaintance among laymen and Chautauqua people. The series of morning hour talks to be given by Mr. Spence are war interpretations based on recent fiction. His popular afternoon lecture is "The Culture of the Commonplace." Miss Barton comes from far away Long Beach, Cal. Her summer have been spent in story telling at the public libraries in Long Beach.

SCRAPS OF HUMOR

His Antagonistic Attitude.
"My terms to guests without baggage are cash in advance," said the landlord of the Petunia tavern. "You're a stranger and—"

"But I—ha ha!" began the would-be lodger.

"Yes, I'll bet you're an easy feller to get acquainted with, and all that, but I'm not making any new friends these days and am pretty darn shy of the old ones."

Slighted.
"Crimson Gold doesn't seem the same old place since you got rid of the Demon Rum."

"It isn't the same old place," replied Broncho Bob. "The boys have quieted down so that it isn't worth while preaching to 'em about reforming; an' they're gettin' to feel downright neglected."

No Plumbing There.

The Plumber—I believe that we'll all follow the same vocation in the next world as we do in this.

The Junior—"Nonsense! What use will there be for men of your vocation where there isn't any water?"

THE LIMIT.

Biggie—Binkins is the worst pest-unist on earth.

Littleton—Think so?

Biggie—Know it. If his friends put him in the presidential chair he'd find fault with the upholstery.

Just as Hard.

The while I boulder deep in debt. This thought has crossed my mind. Soft coal is just as hard to get as any other kind.

The Duke of Wellington often called the "iron duke," showed his courage and strong will at Waterloo when he helped defeat Napoleon. It takes greater courage, vim, vigor and lasting qualities to win the battle today, in the front-line trenches, than it did in olden times. Energy is a natural outpouring of a healthy body. It does not spring up in a night. Build up that which Nature has given us by taking a compound of iron, recently compounded by Dr. Pierce, and named by him "Iron-Tonic." This iron-ionic tablet is easily taken up by the blood. If you try "Iron-Tonic" tablets, the brain responds to the new blood in circulation; the body is ready to fight against stagnation, which holds you in laziness. You gain in vim, vigor, vitality. Try it now. Don't wait. Today is the day to begin taking "Iron-Tonic" tablets. A little "pep" and you laugh and you live. A little energy saves the day. "Iron-Tonic" tablets move rich red blood. With good red blood comes courage, then comes success, which leads to more and more success.

Dr. Pierce's "Iron-Tonic" tablets are to be had in sixty-cent vials at most drug stores. If you wish to test them send 10 cents to the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and get a trial package—Now!

QUANTITY BUYING IS OFTEN A QUANTITY LOSS

After days of planning this girl entertains. She has aimed to delight her assembled friends—has put forth her best efforts in her preparations and personally feels that she has accomplished her end. In her absence her gossiping friends take to discussing the unsavory tea she has served and one by one they relate their experiences with quantity buying through out of town houses. The girl's father sits back at a short distance, hears the discussion upon the tea served by his daughter and feels sorry for the innocent girl, at the same time realizing more forcibly than ever the folly of the mother and wife who had fallen victim to the "quantity tea" propaganda of an out-of-town house where the local tea and coffee man would have given satisfactory service or would have willingly set about to find something that would please.

"OUTWITTING THE HUN"

By LIEUTENANT
PAT O'BRIEN

© 1918, by PAT O'BRIEN

I asked the commanding officer, a major, what the reason for that was and he replied that he thought I had done enough for one day. However I knew that if I did not go someone else from another "flight" would have to take my place, and I insisted upon going up with my patrol as usual, and the major reluctantly consented. Had he known what was in store for me, I am sure he wouldn't have changed his mind so readily.

As it was we had only five machines for this patrol anyway. I counted as we crossed the line one of them had to drop out on account of motor trouble. Our patrol was up at 8 p. m. and up to within ten minutes of that hour it had been entirely uneventful.

At 7:50 p. m., however, while we were flying at a height of 18,000 feet, we observed three other English machines which were about 3,000 feet below us pick a fight with nine Hun machines.

I knew right then that we were in for it because I could see over toward the ocean a whole flock of Hun machines which evidently had escaped the attention of our scrappy countrymen below us.

So we dove down on those nine Huns.

At first the fight was fairly even. There were eight of us to nine of them. But soon the other machines which I had seen in the distance and which were flying even higher than we were, arrived on the scene and when they, in turn, dove down on us there was just twenty of them to our eight!

Four of them singled me out. I was diving and they dived right down after me shooting as they came. Their tracer bullets were coming closer to me every moment. These tracer bullets are balls of fire which enable the shooter to follow the course his bullets are taking and to correct his aim accordingly. They do no more harm to a pilot if he is hit than an ordinary bullet, but if they hit the petrol tank, good night! When a machine catches fire in flight there is no way of putting it out. It takes less than a minute for the fabric to burn off the wings and then the machine drops like an arrow leaving a trail of smoke like a comet.

As their tracer bullets came closer and closer to me I realized that my chances of escape were nil. Their very next shot, I felt, must hit me.

Once, some days before when I was flying over the line, I had watched a fight above me. A German machine was set on fire and dived down through our formation in flames on its way to the ground. The Hun was diving at such a sharp angle that both his wings came off, and as he passed within a few hundred feet of me I saw the look of horror on his face.

Now, when I expected any moment to suffer a similar fate I could not help thinking of that poor Hun's last look of agony.

I realized that my only chance lay in making an Immelman turn. This maneuver was invented by a German—one of the greatest who ever flew and who was killed in action some time before. This turn, which I made successfully brought one of their machines right in front of me, and as he sailed along barely ten yards away, I "had the drop" on him and he knew it.

His white face and dilated eyes I can still see. His knees beyond question that his last moment had come because his position prevented his taking aim at me while my gun pointed straight at him. My first tracer bullet passed within a yard of his head the second looked as if it hit his shoulder, the third's ruck him in the neck, and then I let him have the whole works and he went down in a spinning nose dive.

All this time the three other Hun machines were shooting away at me. I could hear the bullets striking my machine one after another. I hadn't the slightest idea that I could ever beat off those three Huns but there was nothing for me to do but fight, and my hands were full.

In fighting your machine is dropping, dropping all the time. I glanced at my instruments and my altitude was between 8,000 and 9,000 feet. While I was still looking at the instruments the whole blamed works disappeared. A burst of bullets went into the instrument board and blew it to smithereens, another bullet went through my upper lip, came out of the roof of my mouth and lodged in my throat, and the next thing I knew was when I came to in a German hospital the following morning at five o'clock German time.

I was a prisoner of war.

CHAPTER IV

Clipped Wings

The hospital in which I found myself on the morning after my capture was a private house made of brick very low and dirty and not at all adapted for use as a hospital. It had evidently been used but a few days on account of the big push that was taking place at that time of the year and in all probability would be abandoned as soon as they had found a better place.

In all, the house contained four rooms and a stable which was by far the largest of all. Although I never looked into this "wing" of the hospital I was told that it, too, was filled with patients lying on beds of straw around on the ground. I do not know whether they too were officers or privates.

The room in which I found myself contained eight beds, three of which were occupied by wounded German officers. The other rooms I imagined had about the same number of beds as mine. There were no Red Cross nurses in attendance just orderlies for this was only an emergency hospital and too near the firing line for nurses. The orderlies were not old men nor very young boys as I had expected to find but young men in the prime of life who evidently had been medical students. One or two of them I discovered were able to talk English but for some reason they would not talk. Perhaps they were forbidden by the officer in charge to do so.

In addition to the bullet wound in my mouth I had a swelling from my forehead to the back of my head almost as big as my shoe—and that is saying considerable. I couldn't move an inch without suffering intense pain and when the doctor told me that I had no bones broken I wondered how a fellow would feel who had.

German officers visited us that morning and told me that my machine went down in a spinning nose dive from a height of between 8,000 and 9,000 feet and they had the surprise of their lives when they discovered that I had not been dashed to pieces. They had to cut me out of my machine which was riddled with shots and shuttered to bits.

A German doctor removed the bullet from my throat, and the first thing he said to me when I came to was "You are an American!"

There was no denying it because the metal identification disk on my wrist bore the inscription

P O B
U S A
R T C

Although I was suffering intense agony the doctor who spoke perfect English insisted upon conversing with me. You may be all right as a sportsman, but you are a damned coward just the same for lying here. You Americans who act up to this thing, before America came into this war are no better than common murderers and you ought to be treated the same way.

The sound in my mouth made it impossible for me to answer him and I was suffering too much pain to be artless such by a man who could say "You are a coward." I was lying on my back, I could just as easily have said "I am a coward." You don't have to worry any more, he declared as a parting shot. For you the war is over.

I was glad a little brother later in the day and I began to select my thoughts. I wondered what had happened to my comrades in the battle who had resulted so disastrously to me. As I began to reflect on my plight I remembered about my physical condition that he had said as the doctor had pointed out that the war was practically over. I had been in it but a short time and now I could be a deserter for the duration of the war.

One day some German flying officer came to me and I said that treated me with great consideration. They told me of the man I had brought down. They said he was a Bavarian and a fairly good pilot. They gave me his hat as a souvenir and complimented me on the fight I had put up.

AN EASY WAY TO BANISH PIMPLES

If you are troubled with pimples, blackheads, acne, barbers' itch, blotches, freckles or other skin disease or blemish, now is the time to get rid of it with HOKARA.

This pure and simple skin healer is being introduced in Connellsville by A. A. Clarke at the low price of 35c for a liberal sized jar, and he has sold hundreds of treatments.

It contains no grease or acids, is clean to use and is a true nourishment for the skin, cleaning and clearing it in every pore, making it soft, white and beautiful.

If HOKARA does not do even more than is claimed for it and give perfect satisfaction, return the empty jar to the A. A. Clarke Drug Store and he will refund your money. If you have any skin trouble, you cannot spend 35c to better advantage than for a jar of this skin "food"—Adv.

Dave Colborn of Pittsburgh spent a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Colborn at Mill Run.

TALLEST PITCHER SIGNED

Bill Kuss, the tallest pitcher in captivity, who last season was bought by the Pittsburgh Pirates for $3,000, has been signed for the season to deliver for the Seattle club in the Pacific Coast International league.

Kuss never got very far with the Pirates owing to a sore arm developing shortly after he arrived in Pittsburgh. He was unconditionally released.

COBB MAY ENLIST AT END OF 1918 SEASON

Ty Cobb has put a quietus on the persistent rumors which have been going the rounds to the effect that he was adjusting his personal affairs with the idea of enlisting before the season was over.

The rumors originated in Pittsburgh, where an army officer stated that Cobb had decided to enlist and that it was only a question as to when he could arrange his business matters with that end in view.

Cobb says that he intends to stick to the Tigers this season but that he was thinking of enlisting at the close of the baseball year, but had not reached a decision at this point.

He intimated that he had been offered a commission in the motor-mechanics corps but could not accept because of his business affairs. It is believed that the story resulted from this fact.

LITTLE DIFFERENCE IN PLAY

Pitchers in Minors Try to Stop Hitting.
While in Majors Batters Must Hit Ball.

Ping Bodie, the desperate fence destroyer, has it all figured out. Says he:

"The principal difference between the game of baseball in the big leagues and down in the minors is as follows: 'In the minors the pitchers are always trying to keep you from hitting the pill. In the big leagues the batters are always making you hit it. That's all there is to it.'"

ARLIE LATHAM COACHING
LONDON BASEBALL TEAM

Whenever the American soldier hails on his way through England to the fighting front it means a game of baseball. Under these conditions the English are naturally showing more interest in the American game than heretofore, and an Anglo-American baseball league has been formed in which may be mentioned some real diamond stars.

The photo shows Arlie Latham, the once famous Giant and favorite of Gotham fans, who is coaching the London team.
